Ask

Look at your team graph. What do you notice? What, if anything, is surprising? Where does this team need to pay deliberate attention so they can succeed? Think of a project or challenge this team has recently been engaged in. Describe how the team approached the project using the team profile as a guide.

FourSight® Team Profile The chart above shows the high and low preference expressed by your team. Note that the numbers in each bar of the chart will generally not add up to the total number of people on your team. The chart only reflects team members with high or low preferences in each area.
